

home > communication > from buzz to action: event by med-desire project to discuss the role of renewable energy in the mediterranean region

COMMUNICATION

News
Calendar
Links
Press corner
Video gallery
Feature stories
Mediterranean stories

From buzz to action: event by MED-DESIRE project to discuss the role of renewable energy in the Mediterranean region

The main strengths and weaknesses of the legal, regulatory, economic and organizational framework for the development of solar energy technologies in the Euro-Mediterranean area will be discussed next April 10th in Naples during an event organized by the MED-DESIRE project.

The workshop under the title "The role of renewable energy in the Mediterranean region: from buzz to action" will gather institutional representatives and technical experts in the solar sector from Egypt, Italy, Lebanon and Tunisia. Discussions will focus on ways to foster solar energy across the Mediterranean area through the definition of innovative financial schemes and market stimulation tools.

The event is part of EnergyMed, one of the largest energy-related fairs in the Mediterranean region.

View the agenda

For further information, please contact:

Mr. Giuseppe Creanza

MED-DESIRE Project Manager

ARTI - Regional Agency for Technology and Innovation Apulia Region

Tel +39 080 4670381

g.creanza@arti.puglia.it

Study tour of Egyptian and Tunisian partners at ENEA facilities