Oggetto: LCEC-Good-to-Know: MED-ENEC ESCO Training Presentations Online // MED-DESIRE Awareness Raising Activities

Download Presentations of the MED-ENEC ESCO Training

- Following the successful training on “ESCOs for Management and Business Developers” that took place from 20 to 24 April 2015 in Beirut, Lebanon, the presentations of the event are now available online using the following link: https://www.dropbox.com/sh/0yd4eezyijw6912/AAA6ymuZDVNe_d9k7S3wkhHNa?oref=e. The training was conducted as part of the continuous successful cooperation between the MED-ENEC, a regional project funded by the European Union (EU) and the LCEC.

Awareness Activities by MED-DESIRE

- The weekend of 9 and 10 May 2015 witnessed a large number of activities undertaken by the MED-DESIRE team at LCEC: MED-DESIRE organized a one-day workshop in Tyre to develop solar ordinances to be enforced within the Union of Municipalities of Tyre. The MED-DESIRE team was also involved in the rally-paper organized by ESIB University, where special focus was given to sustainable energy issues. MED-DESIRE also participated in the Champville School Scouts Festivities, working on awareness raising issues among school students. Finally, the MED-DESIRE team organized one stop dedicated to renewable energy during the “Bikeathon 2015” that took place in the capital Beirut. The MED-DESIRE project is a regional project including 9 partners from five different countries. MED-DESIRE is funded by the EU ENPI CBC-MED initiative.

The Lebanese Center for Energy Conservation (LCEC) -in its efforts to share with you all the developments that are taking place in the energy efficiency, renewable energy, and green buildings sectors in Lebanon and the region- has setup the “LCEC-Good-to-Know” email information tool. The “LCEC-Good-to-Know” is an email sent regularly by the LCEC including two small infos on the latest events, achievements, publications, updates, articles or others related to the work of LCEC. LCEC is always more than happy to receive your feedback and comments.
